Five Reasons To Check Out Eskimo Hut ASAP!

1. BEVERAGES TO GO

We're going to let this one sink in for a minute...

Good? Great. If you didn't grasp this killer concept, let us break it down: at Eskimo Hut, you can actually get pre-made drinks to go, making it basically the alcoholic equivalent of your favorite fast food joint. Whether it's a Bloody Mary on the way to an early class or a daiquiri to help you unwind after a long day of pretending to pay attention, the Hut is basically the ultimate grab-and-go solution for your drinking problem.

2. A SWEET SELECTION

Eskimo Hut offers a ton of options. When it comes to daiquiris, think fantastic flavors like the Pink Party Dropper, Red Raider Rum Punch, and even one named after Coach Kingsbury: The Kliff, which is a magical mix of pineapple, piña colada and kiwi. Or, you know, just stock up on jello shots or buy a bunch of beer. That's cool, too.

3. THE CONVENIENCE FACTOR

Not only is Eskimo Hut right around the corner from campus—making it perfect for a pre-class cocktail or to-go drink on your way to tailgate—but it's also open seven days a week (and late!), so you can stave off that hangover hair-of-the-dog style on Sunday or start your weekend, umm, four days early on Monday.

4. ON-PREMISE DRINKING

Bored while your girlfriend geeks out over all the awesome flavor options and tries to decide on a daiquiri? Never fear—just pop open a beer! Eskimo Hut allows for on-premise drinking, meaning you can sip and shop, and start your party before even leaving the store.

5. YOUR ONE-STOP PARTY SHOP

Step up your game next Saturday night and stock up on alcohol that's way more impressive than Natty Light. At Eskimo Hut, you can buy daiquiris and beer by the gallon (which, by the way, is ultra-convenient when it comes to beer pong) and even up the ante with cheap, custom-made jello shots. Because actually making your own? Psh, ain't nobody got time for that!
